

Here and Now

In this very moment strings echo
And darkened is the hall
That beatific feeling I undergo
Is uncanny yet recalled

To be here and now
And let others be
All walls torn down
To follow the light, the light to be

In this very moment that passed yet is still here
Let's rejoice, your joy will not be dampened
Body and spirit with energy to veneer
Just be wide open

To be here and now
And let others be
All walls torn down
To follow the light, the light to be